Central Institute of Higher Tibetan Studies

(Deemed University)

Sarnath, Varanasi

Achievements of the Institute during 2014-15 to 30-11-2018

The Central Institute of Higher Tibetan Studies, Sarnath, Varanasi is one of its kind in the country. It was established in 1967 by the Government of India as a premier institution with a view to educating the young Tibetans in exile - having main objective of preserving the Tibetan Culture, which is the legacy of ancient Nalanda tradition of India and those from the Himalayan regions of India, who have religion, culture and language in common with Tibet. A gradual planned growth in its infrastructure and the basic concepts of preservation of Tibetan culture, which is the legacy of ancient Nalanda tradition of India and tradition had led to this Institute being declared as a Deemed University in April 1988. Over the years, the Institute has been striving successfully to preserve the cultural heritage of both India and Tibet through academic programmes, research programmes, restoration of lost Indian treatises and translations of the same and other works.
